Shashi Kuppa

Ms. Kuppa is the Division Chief of the Special Vehicles and Systems Division in the Office of Crashworthiness Standards at NHTSA. Her group is responsible for Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards regarding school buses, child restraint systems, motorcoaches, motorcycle helmets, fuel system and fuel container integrity, flammability, electric vehicles, and truck underride guards. She joined the biomechanics group in NHTSA's Office of Vehicle Safety Research in 1999. She joined NHTSA's Rulemaking office in 2008. She graduated with a Ph.D. in Structural Engineering and Applied Mechanics from the University of Washington in 1990.